The School Board's response shall either admit or deny the allegations of non-compliance. If the School's response includes admissions of non-compliance with the Contract or Applicable Law, the School Board's response must also contain a description of the School Board's plan and timeline for correcting the non-compliance with the Contract or Applicable Law. If the School's response includes a denial of non-compliance with the Contract or Applicable Law, the School's response shall include sufficient documentation or other evidence to support a denial of non-compliance with the Contract or Applicable Law. A response not in compliance with this Section shall be deemed to be non-responsive. As part of its response, the School Board may request that an informal hearing be scheduled with the District. The School Board's failure to provide to the District a written request for an informal hearing within the fifteen (15) business day period shall be treated as acquiescence to the District's proposed action.

(c) Informal Hearing. Upon receiving a timely written request for an informal hearing, the District shall give ten (10) business days notice to the School Board of the hearing date and time, and the District shall conduct such hearing.

(d) Plan of Correction. The District shall review the School Board's response and may, in its sole discretion, determine whether a reasonable plan for correcting the deficiencies may be formulated. If the District determines that a reasonable plan for correcting the deficiencies set forth in the notice of intent to revoke/terminate or not renew can be formulated, the District shall develop a plan for correcting the non-compliance ("Plan of Correction"). In developing a Plan of Correction, the District is permitted to adopt, modify or reject some or all of the School Board's response for correcting the deficiencies outlined in the notice of intent to revoke/terminate or not renew. The District is not obligated to offer a Plan of Correction to the School.

(e) Withdrawal of Notice of Revocation/Termination or Nonrenewal. The District may withdraw its notice of intent to revoke/terminate or not renew if the District determines any of the following: (i) the School Board's denial of noncompliance is persuasive; (ii) the non-compliance set forth in the notice of intent to revoke/terminate or not renew has been corrected by the School Board; or (iii) the School Board has successfully completed the Plan of Correction.
(f) Effective Date of Revocation/Termination or Nonrenewal. If the District decides to revoke/terminate or not renew the Contract, the revocation/termination or nonrenewal shall be effective on the date of the District's act of revocation/termination or nonrenewal, or at a later date as determined by the District, such date specified by the District in its determination of revocation/termination or nonrenewal. The District must take final action regarding revocation/termination or nonrenewal no later than twenty (20) business days: (i) before the specified date for revocation/termination or nonrenewal of the Contract, or (ii) the Contract's termination date.

Section 10.4. Dissolution. If this Contract is revoked/terminated, or if this Contract is not renewed pursuant to this Article, the School will dissolve following the process provided by Minn. Stat. Ch. 317A and Applicable Law relating to dissolutions and Exhibit L.

Section 10.5. Distribution of Property Upon Termination of Contract. In the event of dissolution of the School, all property which it might lease, borrow or contract for use, shall be promptly returned to those organizations or individuals from which the School has leased or borrowed the materials.

Section 10.6. Property Owned by School. All property that has been purchased by the School will remain its own. In the event of subsequent dissolution of the School, such property as may be required or permitted by Applicable Law will first be donated to other charter schools authorized by the District and if no District Charter School wants such property, then to any other Minnesota Charter School. Any remaining property will then will be sold or distributed in accordance with Applicable Law.

Section 10.7. Property Owned by School Employees. All property personally and/or individually owned by the trained and licensed teachers or staff employed by the School, shall be exempt from distribution of property and shall remain the property of the individual teachers and staff. Such property includes, but is not limited to, albums, personal mementos and other materials or apparatus that have been personally financed by teachers or staff. Such property does not include lesson plans and related materials developed and produced by School employees to implement the School's academic plan and curriculum; the School will ensure that its employment agreements document that such property is School property.

ARTICLE XI
ADDITIONAL PROVISIONS

Section 11.1. Contract Renewal or Transfer to Different Authorizer.
(a) Contract Renewal.

1. Considerations Determining Renewal. The School acknowledges that improving all pupil learning and all student achievement is the most important factor the District will consider in determining Contract renewal, which determination shall be based substantially on the School's attainment of its academic outcomes/goals identified in Exhibit F. The District will also consider any compelling evidence of improved pupil learning and student achievement for all students on Department of Education measures other than the attainment of outcomes/goals specified in Exhibit F.

The District will consider other factors in its renewal determination, which factors are considered secondary to improving all pupil learning and all student achievement. Specifically, the District will consider the achievement of any additional identified purposes specified in Exhibit D, and financial and operational performance obligations and compliance with Applicable Law as set forth in this Contract.

The School will be eligible for renewal only if the School has improved pupil performance and student achievement for all students, notwithstanding superior performance in financial, operations, governance, or legal compliance factors.

If the District offers a renewal contract, a five-year term will be awarded only if warranted by School performance: the School has improved all pupil learning and all student achievement, the School has met or substantially met its academic pupil performance outcomes/goals in Exhibit F, the school has no significant financial, operational, governance, or legal compliance deficiency, or multiple deficiencies in any of the financial, operational, governance, or legal compliance areas, or deficiencies in multiple areas.

2. Considerations Warranting Nonrenewal. Nonrenewal is warranted based on the existence of grounds identified in section 10.1 or 10.2 or Applicable Law, notwithstanding the existence of improved pupil learning and student achievement for all students. For example, nonrenewal will result from the School's failure to improve all pupil learning and all student achievement notwithstanding superior performance in financial, operations, governance, or legal compliance factors, and nonrenewal may result from the School's improvement of all pupil learning and all student achievement combined with a significant financial, operational, governance, or legal compliance deficiency, or multiple deficiencies in any of the financial, operational, governance, or legal compliance areas, or deficiencies in multiple areas.

3. Corrective Action Renewal. If the School has improved all pupil learning and all student achievement, but School performance also indicates the existence of a significant financial, operational, governance, or legal compliance deficiency, or multiple deficiencies in any of the financial, operational, governance, or legal compliance areas, or deficiencies in multiple areas, The District may, but is not obligated to, renew this Contract. If the District renews the Contract in these circumstances, the renewal is for corrective action with a term not to exceed three years, and the School acknowledges and agrees that the School must continue to improve all pupil learning and all student achievement and must eliminate and resolve the deficiencies causing the Corrective Action Renewal and that no additional deficiencies are created or identified during that renewal term, in order to be eligible for a subsequent renewal.
4. Application. By December 15th of the school year in which this Contract terminates, the School will submit an application to the District that shall contain three parts: (1) School Performance. An analysis and evaluation of the School's performance under this Contract, which shall include a comprehensive evaluation of each contract goal for each year of the contract, as well as an evaluation of fiscal, operational, and governance performance during the term of the contract; (2) Proposed Goals. A proposal for goals for the following contract period; and (3) Other Information. Any other information the School desires the District to consider. The School agrees to provide to the District documentation supporting the School's evaluation if requested by the District.

The District will notify the School at least sixty (60) business days prior to the termination of this contract as to whether the District intends to offer a renewal charter contract.

(b) Transfer to Different Authorizer. The District must consent to the School's transfer to another authorizer. If the District consents to the School's request to transfer to a different authorizer, the School agrees to reimburse the District for any authorizer fees waived or not paid, grants provided by District to the School, and all training and professional development provided to the School by a third party but paid by the District. This provision does not apply if the District requests that the School transfer to another authorizer.

Section 11.2. Insurance. The School Board shall secure and maintain in its own name as the "first named insured" at all times the following insurance coverage:

(a) workers' compensation insurance to include coverage A;

(b) insurance covering all of the School's real and personal property, whether owned or leased;

(c) insurance required by Minn. Stat. § 466.04, including a minimum of commercial general liability insurance in comprehensive form, bodily injury and property damage combined of one and a half million dollars ($1,500,000) per occurrence and personal injury of one and a half million dollars ($1,500,000) per occurrence; and up to one million dollars ($1,000,000) per occurrence for the release or threatened release of a hazardous substance; and if not included under its general liability coverage, additional coverage as follows: minimum automobile liability insurance coverage, bodily injury and property damage, of one million dollars ($1,000,000) per occurrence if the School owns or operates motor vehicles; officer and employee errors and omissions/professional liability of one and a half million dollars ($1,500,000) per occurrence; and employee theft insurance of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000).

The insurance must be obtained from a financially responsible licensed mutual, stock, or other responsible company licensed to do business in the State of Minnesota.

The School may join with other charter schools to obtain insurance if the School Board finds that such an association provides economic advantages to the School, provided that each School maintains its identity as first named insured. The School shall have a provision included in all policies requiring notice to the District, at least thirty (30) days in advance, upon termination or non-renewal of the policy. In addition, the School shall provide the District or its designee copies of all insurance policies required by this Contract, if requested for periodic review by the District.
The above-stated coverage limits shall be issued and maintained as indemnity limits and shall not be reduced by any applicable insurer defense obligations. The Department of Education may suggest or Applicable Law may determine alternative amounts and terms of any deductible or insurance provisions, which shall supersede the foregoing requirements. The School shall provide the Department of Education with any insurance information, as requested. The School may expend funds for payment of the cost of participation in an accident or medical insurance program to insure protection for students while attending school or participating in a school program or activity.

Section 11.3. School Lease. The School shall provide to the District a copy of its lease, and any subsequent amendment(s), or deed for the premises in which the School shall operate within fourteen (14) calendar days of execution. The school will provide to the District any notice of lease termination within five (5) calendar days of receipt. The School may lease space from any independent or special school board eligible to be a charter school authorizer, other public organization, private nonprofit institution organization or private property owner, as it deems necessary. The School may lease space from a sectarian organization as allowed by Applicable Law.

Section 11.4. Occupancy and Safety Certificates. The School Board shall: (a) ensure that the School's physical facilities comply with all fire, health and safety standards applicable to schools; and (b) possess the necessary occupancy and safety certificates for the School's physical facilities. The School Board shall not conduct classes until the School has complied with this section. Copies of such certificates shall be provided to the District before the first day of classes, if requested by the District.

Section 11.5. Legal Liabilities. The District does not assume any obligation with respect to any director, employee, agent, parent, guardian, student, or independent contractor of the School. The School acknowledges and agrees that it assumes full liability for its activities and that the Commissioner, the District, officers and members of the Board of the District, and employees of the District, are immune from civil and criminal liability with respect to all activities related to the School, pursuant to Minnesota Statutes Section 124E.09 and nothing in this Contract is intended to affect such immunity.

Section 11.6. Indemnification of the District and Commissioner. Notwithstanding Section 11.5, the School agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the District and its officers, board members, employees, agents or representatives, and to indemnify and hold harmless the Commissioner and Department of Education officers, agents, and employees notwithstanding Minn. Stat. section 3.736, from all suits, claims, demands, or liability, including attorney fees, and related expenses, which arise out of or are in any manner connected with the School's operations or which are incurred as a result of the reliance of the District upon information supplied by the School, or School Board and its agents or employees, or which arise out of the failure of the School to perform its obligations under this Contract or which arise out of the District's exercise of its obligation under Applicable Law or enforcement of this Contract.

RE: Intent to Locate a Charter School in District #659

Dear Superintendent Tofte and Members of the Northfield School Board:

This letter is to inform you that a group of teachers, parents and community members are working to develop a charter school called the "Southeast Minnesota School of Arts and Technology" (SeMSAT), which will be located within the Northfield School District. It is the intent of this group to submit a proposal for your review in August with a request for the Northfield School District to sponsor this charter school.

As required by the Charter Proposal, this formal letter of intent is to precede the proposal to the Department of Children, Families and Learning (CFL) by at least 30 days. We anticipate opening this charter school in the fall of 2002. With that in mind, the proposal is due the CFL by October 1, 2001. The group anticipates having a site selected and confirmed this fall. We hope to lease this space prior to opening SeMSAT. It is our intent to develop a working relationship with Minnesota New Country School (MNCS) to use this space during the late winter and spring of 2002 to help SeMSAT set up the Northfield school based on the MNCS model.

We look forward to working with the Northfield School District for years to come, hopefully within a sponsor-charter relationship. We will continue to be in close communication about this.

Sincerely,

Paula Manor, on behalf of the SeMSAT planning committee

IMPLEMENTATION OF MISSION

Arcadia Charter School
Development of and Adherence to Mission and Vision

Arcadia Charter School was first conceived as the Southeast Minnesota School of Arts and Technology (SeMSAT) in 2001, when the founders submitted a proposal to the Minnesota Department of Children, Families & Learning (now the Minnesota Department of Education, or MDE). The proposal was for a charter school to be located in Northfield and sponsored by the Northfield School District. The school founders hoped to open in the Fall of 2002, but because the facility had not been secured, the opening was delayed until 2003. In the Fall of 2003, the school opened as the Northfield School of Arts and Technology, a name that was interchangeable with its nickname, ARTech Charter School. In 2010-2011, wishing to project a more inclusive image, the name changed again to Arcadia Charter School. From its beginning in 2003, the school has served grades 6-12.

When the proposal for SeMSAT was submitted, it drew heavily from the progressive curriculum of the Minnesota New Country School (MNCS). MNCS used a project-based curricular approach that had shown great promise and success in its early years. Both schools remain similar in their progressive approach to education; their commitment to constructivism, and to emergent learning through project-based learning.

In the early years of operation, ARTech students were arranged without attention to grades or ages. The idea was to allow learning and cross-age mentoring to emerge, with older students teaching the younger ones. Each student occupied a desk in a large open area, and each child had his or her own desktop computer, provided by the school. The curriculum emphasized arts and technology. Like its model MNCS, ARTech started out as a 100% project-based school. Students created projects based on their own interests and project managers (teachers) were responsible for seeing that students met the state mandated educational standards.

However passionate the founders were for project-based learning (PBL); it soon became apparent that guidance, limitations, and accountability were needed to be sure basic skills were being learned. By 2005, the school faculty expected students to attend certain required seminars to learn the core basic skills necessary to tackle increasingly complex projects. These seminars evolved into the more traditional core classes the schools offer now, but with an emphasis on experiential learning and projects, student participation, and small class sizes. The large open space was divided first into two and then four spaces which allowed for physical separation of the middle school and the high school. The move was in response to the very different needs of developmentally emerging teens (middle school) and emerging adults (high school).
Arcadia’s physical layout and hybrid PBL/class scheduling have evolved through careful self-study and reflection over the years. However, the mission remains true to the original founders’ vision. The first mission, in 2001, read:

Southeast Minnesota School of Arts and Technology is a public learning community committed to personalized, interdisciplinary project and performance based learning, provided through an arts and technology curriculum, that produces successful life performers who demonstrate high levels of individual and communal contribution and achievement.

The current mission statement reads:

It is the mission of Arcadia Charter School to prepare our students to transition intellectually, emotionally, and ethically to higher education and future employment. Arcadia Charter School envisions a learning community that encourages and assists students to

- Express themselves artistically
- Use technology responsibly, creatively, and with innovation
- Develop critical thinking and creative problem solving skills
- Construct knowledge and meaning for themselves
- Understand and strive for wellness of their whole person
- Recognize and act upon their responsibilities as local citizens in a global context
- Achieve proficiency in project-based learning.

Arcadians are proud of the learning community they have created in Northfield. Students score well on state mandated tests and attend top tier colleges. We are proud to serve a large number of special education students who often find the project-based learning and small class size to be a good match for them. For the past four years, MDE has awarded Arcadia its highest award for charter schools, The High Quality Charter School. This award is given to schools that embody the original purpose of charter schools: to explore innovative educational approaches that serve as a model for other schools. As a High Quality Charter School, Arcadia is eligible for grants to replicate or expand the program. The Arcadia community does not wish to expand or replicate, but we do look forward to sharing our organic, growing progressive methods with other programs. We also look forward to continuing in our mutually supportive relationship with the Northfield Public Schools.

DESCRIPTION OF SCHOOL'S IN-SCHOOL AND OUT-OF-SCHOOL TIME PROGRAMS
Exhibit E: Academic and Non-Academic Programs at Arcadia Charter School.

Arcadia Charter School follows a carefully developed curriculum handbook for the middle school and the high school (attached). After school programs are limited to homework help and tutoring as needed and as available; Lego Robotics competitive team, two plays (one in the Fall and one in the spring) and various ‘clubs’, including Board Games and Hiking. Arcadia is very fortunate to be able to participate with the Northfield Middle School and High School in sports, music, and other after school activities.
Advisory Structure
Arcadia’s middle school is structured to serve approximately 18 students in each grade with a total of 54 students. Each advisory serves approximately 27 students in a multi-age setting of grades 6-8. Two advisors lead an advisory; overseeing the social curriculum and project process.

Middle School Curriculum Overview
This document is a summary and overview of the Arcadia middle school curriculum, meant to give parents, staff, and other interested parties an explanation of what is taught during middle school time in advisories. Other, more specific, detailed explanations and accompanying documents can be found in the middle school curriculum binder.

Much of what is learned or taught during time in advisories is a response to what comes up in conversations or interactions with students. In other words, in keeping with an emerging environment, we use shifting dynamics, important conversations, and promising ideas as opportunities to teach many things. But Arcadia also has a purposeful agenda for students, and a specific role for middle school advisors.

As staff at a small school, the advisors all wear many hats. Each of us is a content area teacher and has been charged with guiding all students in the school towards success in that subject matter. But a middle school advisor’s primary charge is to teach and track his or her middle school students. This means, that while we are often pulled in many directions, we are primarily responsible for the students in our middle school advisories.

COMMUNICATION
One primary charge for an advisor is to communicate information to our middle school parents. This happens more formally through 3 separate conferences during the school year: the before school goal-setting conference; the 2nd quarter conference; and the mid to late year conference. During this time, staff cover questions about how to make sure students are succeeding socially, within their core classes, and with projects. For more specific questions about student growth within core classes, we encourage contact with the core class teachers.

We send parents a minimum of one update each quarter (so a minimum of 4 a year). This happens at the beginning of the quarter and reminds parents of the quarter’s theme and tells them what the guided project deadlines are. We also send various emails to all parents regarding field trips or other events. How we communicate with individual parents over individual student questions depends upon the parent, the staff, and the nature of the question. Staff respond quickly to email, but sometimes phone call messages are best. We discourage check-ins before and after school, as we typically are busy trying to start or close-up our days. We might sometimes arrange for special meetings instead.

We also capture the students’ progress on narrative that we attach at the bottom of each quarterly report. These reports give students a score for their core classes. Advisors’ observations might note trends in scores, as well as our observations of how to challenge and keep them moving ahead in their projects. We try to highlight both successes and areas for improvement.

At the end of each quarter, students write a reflection-paper. They brainstorm what could be included in the paper and are reminded about what components should be included in a paper. Students are required to have at least one peer “edit” their reflection papers. This gives them writing practice, an opportunity to reflect on their work and a chance to think about what they might do to improve and enhance their learning. And it gives parents more information about how and what their children are doing.
SOCIAL CURRICULUM
The social curriculum at Arcadia is at the core of what we do: we are a small, community school, and how we interact with and respond to each other will determine the success of our community. In light of this, we have adopted Developmental Designs. This is a social curriculum designed to teach social skills and good citizenship, and to promote academic success.

We devote the first 2-4 weeks of school each year to setting the tone and expectations for our social expectations. We engage students in purposeful community building games and activities and orient them to the middle school handbook and other rules or expectations and routines. Each year we create a social contract with our individual advisories, which is then brought to the larger school—by advisory representatives—to be assimilated into one, school-wide social contract. We return to this social contract often during the year to remember what we as an advisory and a school have determined is the way we want to operate together and treat each other. We refer to this social contract when we need to navigate concerns or conflicts; it establishes language and clear guidelines for behavior.

A large component of Developmental Designs is the “advisory circle.” We set the stage for the morning circle by using a morning board to ask questions that make students think and come up with answers or comments that typically reflect on something or look forward to something important to talk about. We begin each morning circle with a greeting, done to acknowledge each and every person as we start the day. During the rest of the circle, we read announcements, hear about concerns or celebrations, and discuss important issues or ideas. Sometimes we will incorporate games or activities into circles. Afternoon circles are times to come together at the end of the day to check on homework assignments, hand things out, and give last minutes reminders. We continue these circles all year round.

One important tool that we use to acknowledge each other is our end of year ritual. We take several hours on the last day of each school year where we engage students in a careful and thoughtful activity designed to show appreciation for each person. Afterwards, we have a ceremony to honor the 8th graders and recognize their individual gifts to our advisory and our school.

PROJECT PROCESS
Students have both core classes and electives (which are classes that they can opt to take or not take). But a good part of their academic learning comes through projects. Students do one guided project each quarter, encouraged by the theme for that quarter. Each quarter’s theme is typically taken from the book that the middle school Language Arts classes are reading for the quarter. The themes and the books are on a three-year rotation; this means that the students who come in the first quarter of 6th grade finish with the rotation the 4th quarter of their 8th grade year. The books read in middle school Language Arts are subject to change based on teacher discretion and other opportunities that often present themselves during the year.

These themes are used to inspire and give direction to students, who conceive of then devise and develop a project, based upon an idea that they have found from the theme. Examples of some books and themes are: the book Walk Two Moons gives way to the theme “Explorations,” the books Airborne and The Little Prince (both books are read in one quarter) promote the theme “Flight;” the book The Diary of Anne Frank, lends itself to the theme of race. Examples of projects done during the quarter of “Flight” include Amelia Earhart; Sputnik; military helicopters; the birds of the Amazon Rain Forest; the history of space exploration.

Sometimes students have a desire to do a project that doesn’t fit into a particular quarter’s theme. Teachers generally will agree to this, as what is most important is not the exploration of the theme but learning and fine-tuning the project process. The themes are meant as merely aids to guide the first step in this project process, which is Finding a Topic. Teachers engage students in brainstorming sessions, using webs, t-charts, and other tools to help students generate ideas for these guided projects. Much discussion focuses on the appropriateness of a topic: is it too narrow? Is it too broad? Are there enough resources available to find plentiful information? Do they already know enough about their subject? One tool for helping students see the appropriateness of a topic is the know/wonder chart; this chart asks students to record what they already know as well as questions they have about the topic. It enables them to see if they have enough open-ended, broad, questions to explore within the subject.

The next step in the project process is Finding Resources. This overlaps with teaching skills for how to navigate a computer search, as well as how to use an on-line library and the school library. During this time teachers introduce students to the idea that some sources are better than others; they teach what a reputable source is and how to tell a good source from a source that isn’t so worthy:

Students are asked to find several good sources before they are sure that their project itself is worthy of attention. Once they have done this, they fill out the project proposal sheet; on one side of this sheet is a list of some potential resources, on the other is the know/wonder chart—a graphic organizer designed to help them decide what they already know and what they might need to discover to do their project. Once they are ready, students meet with their advisors and “propose” their project. This proposal process is also used as a teaching tool; students typically come away with new questions to ask:

Once students have proposed their project, they are given instruction in how to Take Notes. Teachers put time into helping students see what is useful and particularly interesting information and what is not as important to their topic. They’re shown how to highlight and they are encouraged to print anything they find from the computer to take notes on these documents. Initially, students are shown and required to take notes a particular way; but after they have demonstrated proficiency with their preferred method, they are free to take notes the way they choose. This note-taking is typically the longest portion of time students devote to their topic, and we have frequent check-ins with them to make sure they’re headed in the right direction.

After students have gathered adequate notes, they are shown how to Organize Their Information. This is often when students begin to see the benefit of having a good note-taking system, as this will usually make ordering and organizing their information more easy. Students are given example outlines and shown how to group similar information, creating topic headings and subheadings. They make their own outlines, and they use these outlines either as preparation for a paper they will write, or as a way to order their information to present to their peers and demonstrate what they’ve learned.

Each quarter students will Demonstrate Their Learning to their peers and their teachers. And each quarter they will do this differently: the first quarter, students write a paper and make a poster board; the second quarter, students create a powerpoint or a prezi (a web-based, graphic presentation tool); the third quarter, students will make/create or do something; and the fourth quarter, students may demonstrate their learning in any way that they choose. Each quarter, advisors teach students these methods of demonstrating, complete with expectations and standards. And although these methods of demonstrating what they’ve learned change, what is consistent each quarter is that students stand in front of their advisory and tell what they have learned, much as they would if they were giving a speech. This is what Arcadia calls finalizations, or presentations. Both teachers and students fill out a “rubric” for the presenters; this is how they get feedback on their projects, and it is also how teachers are able to observe and comment on the culmination of the student’s work.

Deadlines for the completion of each stage of this project process (finding a topic; finding resources; taking notes; organizing notes; demonstrating learning) are established by teachers and followed by everyone at the same time. This helps to teach a rhythm to the process, and gives them a sense of time management.

These projects are all largely research based, and we feel it’s important to teach the skills that accompany each stage of this research. But we also acknowledge that not all projects involve reading and research, and we often encourage individual, additional projects for students (particularly for our kinesthetic learners) who are interested in exploring a project that isn’t necessarily “research” driven. In addition, each year, we incorporate a collaborative service project into one of our quarters. Students are also encouraged to participate in History Day, a nationally sponsored history project competition.
Although each advisory is a mixed grade grouping, advisors take special effort to make sure that 6th graders and other new students are given more direct teaching in the project process. We also have a mentorship program that pairs 6th graders with high school students, to give them extra social and academic support. Additionally, in order to be prepared for high school, and to be given an added challenge, 8th graders do an honors, or 8th grade, project. This process typically begins the 3rd quarter, when 8th graders are introduced to the concept and oriented to the expectations and guidelines.

Advisors are cognizant about what particular ages, and what particular students need by way of challenge or support for their project process. With some students, we concentrate on the rudimentary project skills. For others (and ideally, for all of them when they’re ready), we push critical thinking. This is often done during the project proposal, but it happens throughout note checking and even finalization. This is when we ask students to form opinions, come to their own conclusions, put their learning in some sort of context, or create original ideas.

Arcadia also uses more conventional means for achieving academic growth. In addition to learning through guided projects, middle school students also take classes, some required and some elected. The required classes (dubbed “core classes”) are content area classes: Language Arts, Social Studies, Science, Math. These classes meet 3-4 days a week and last for the whole school year. We also offer elective classes; these classes are options for students, but we strongly encourage students to sign up for at least one elective. In the past we have offered such elective experiences as dance, theater, creative writing, Spanish, technology lab, drumming, and the Arcadia green house. Art, Physical Education, and Choir have been—at different times—either required classes or electives.

Transcripts with core class scores are mailed home at the end of each quarter. These transcripts also include the short advisor narratives, commenting on trends in core class scores and observations on growth and areas of work. Finalization rubrics for each quarter’s guided project and student reflection papers, are mailed home at the same time. These documents, combined, give parents an accurate assessment of how (and what) their child is doing during their middle school years. In addition to these quarterly mailings, all parents are encouraged to come to presentation nights, the evenings when student projects are on display.

Another important part of how Arcadia students learn are the frequent field trips that we take. These trips might be to supplement core classes (such as The Science Museum), or meant to enrich their social learning (such as Feed Our Starving Children). Often our field trips are arts based; we frequently find ourselves at such places as The Guthrie, the Children’s Theater, or Thé Heart of the Beast. We believe in this “out of school” experiential learning, and our students typically participate in a half dozen field trips or more each year. We use these out of school excursions to complement our other purposeful combination of more traditional classes, social curriculum, and projects.

Arcadia’s middle school curriculum is very successful in helping students succeed both academically and socially. Our morning and afternoon circle, student contract, purposeful project process, and offering of classes and field trips work together to produce well-rounded, thoughtful young people, prepared for success in high school and beyond. We firmly believe that our system fosters students to become fine citizens and excellent learners.

In Global Studies students will apply spatial and chronological perspectives as they study the geography of the world’s regions and contemporary world history. Global Studies is framed by the lead discipline of Geography. Students will learn about human culture around the world through the lens of the Five Themes of Geography. Core concepts from the disciplines of History, Economics, and Citizenship and Government will provide complementary perspectives that promote an integrated understanding of the content. This is based on the idea that a person cannot truly understand geography content without considering the relevant economic, political and historic factors.

Arcadia Charter School
2016-17 High School Curriculum Guide

High School Graduation Requirements
Students are required to take foundational classes in core subject areas in the beginning of their high school careers. The remainder of the credits needed to satisfy Arcadia's requirements and Minnesota Department of Education's Graduation Requirements are completed through projects, classes, or seminars. Credits are granted based on depth, demonstration and mastery of knowledge.

In addition to these core classes, students are encouraged to take electives (e.g. dance, Spanish, and other world languages, physical education) or to initiate group projects. The emergent and interdisciplinary nature of the many seminars and projects allows students and teachers the flexibility to create unique learning plans with guidance from teachers.

To earn an Arcadia Charter School diploma, students must successfully complete the following requirements:

23.0 Credits are required

Senior Project
In order to graduate from Arcadia, each senior must complete a challenging, interdisciplinary Senior Project. Students choose the topics, complete ten to fifteen pages of writing, and present to the Arcadia community during Senior Presentation Nights in the spring. Students who are enrolled in full-time PSEO are exempt from this requirement as they participate in college full-time and are not on campus to fulfill the senior project tasks.

Junior Project
In order to graduate from Arcadia, each junior must complete a teacher facilitated portfolio that looks at life after high school. Students research and reflect on career interests, college opportunities, lifestyle choices, and personal finances. The goal of the project is to begin the process of preparing students for their transition after high school.

During the contractual period, an average of 65% of students in grades 6-12 will meet their individual targeted rate of growth in reading, as measured by the NWEA MAP Reading assessment, from fall to spring.
Goal 4: World’s Best Workforce Goals

Sub Goal 4.1 Closing Achievement Gap(s)

1. By the end of the 2017-18 school year, 85.95% of students will score proficient or better on the MCA-III reading test.

2. By the end of the 2017-18 school year, 71.75% of students in grades 6, 7, 8 will score proficient or better on the MCA test for mathematics.

3. Achievement Gap Reduction. By the conclusion of FY2022, for each reading and math test administered, the proficiency index for the Special Education subgroup will be: [One-third of (100-2017 Special Education subgroup proficiency index)] +2017 Special Education subgroup proficiency index.

Sub Goal 4.2: All Students Career- and College-Ready by Graduation

1. Every year from 2017-2022, each student graduating from Arcadia will complete a proscribed Senior Project. Each student writes their own project-related smart goals with their project advisor. Each approved senior project includes a minimum of 15 page research paper with full references, and a presentation of the project to the community.

Sub Goal 4.3: Each year all seniors will be given the opportunity to participate in college visits, financial aid advice and training for seniors and their parents, and college readiness tests including the PSAT, PLAN, ACT, and Accuplacer tests.

Sub Goal 4.4: All students graduate on time 100% of those Arcadia high school students eligible for graduation will graduate on time (i.e. with their cohort) each year from 2017-2022.

Goal 5: Academic Governance

The School will implement an Academic Governance Plan to critically evaluate and strategically lead the School’s academic performance and improvement. The School shall include a summary of its findings in the School’s board minutes as part of its annual retreat in January of each year.
Achievement Gap Reduction. By the conclusion of FY2021, for reading and math, the proficiency index for the Special Education subgroup will be:

\[ \text{One-third of (100 - 2016 Special Education subgroup proficiency index )} + 2016 \text{ Special Education subgroup proficiency index.} \]

Sub Goal 4.4 All Students Career and College-Ready by Graduation (5%)

1. By the conclusion of FY 2021, 100% of eighth, 11th, and 12th grade students will complete and present an Honors Project each spring.

Rationale:
The grade honors project is a comprehensive, inquiry-based project. With the support of a mentor, each student creates and presents a project that requires high levels of research, writing, design and presentation skills. The process of engaging in, and completing, this project is an indicator that our students will graduate from our school equipped with the study skills and habits of mind integral to future success in career and college.

Goal 5: Academic Governance

The School will implement an Academic Governance Plan to critically evaluate and strategically lead the School’s academic performance and improvement. The School shall include a summary of its findings in the School’s board minutes no less than twice annually.
EXHIBIT G:

Statement of Admissions policies and procedures
105-ADMISSIONS POLICY

I. PURPOSE

The objective of this policy is to allow the school to operate at a full capacity of 126 students with an average of 18 students per grade. The director and board of directors may increase one or more grades' capacity by resolution and without changing this policy.

II. GENERAL STATEMENT OF POLICY

A. In accordance with MN State law MS124d.10 Subd. 9 (Admission Requirements) all students who submit timely applications to Arcadia Charter School will be awarded places unless the number of applications exceeds the capacity of the program, class or grade level. In this case, all available places will be filled by lottery. Siblings of a currently enrolled student, or foster children of that student’s family and children of staff members will have preference in admissions before accepting other students by lottery.

B. Arcadia shall not discriminate against any student based on “race,” color, ethnicity, sex, age, national origin, ancestry, religion or creed, status with regard to public assistance, sexual orientation, disability, intellectual ability, prior measures of achievement or aptitude, athletic ability, or for any other basis that would be unlawful for a public or charter school.

III. PROCEDURES

A. Each year, the director, with staff input, will determine the advisory (classroom) number and enrollment sizes, keeping in mind age mix, facility space, and staffing.

B. On the first business Monday of April, the director will oversee the completion of the lottery (if necessary). Each student will be assigned a lottery number in the order that they are drawn. Students from the list will then be admitted per grade until that grade is full (18) or there are no additional students on the waiting list for that grade.

C. If a grade is not full by June 1st, additional students in any other grades may be admitted (above 18 but not exceeding 21) in order to maintain advisory enrollment as set by the director in keeping with the objective of maintaining full enrollment for the school (126).

D. For purposes of student counts, returning 5th year seniors will count toward the 12th grade class total enrollment, but not count toward the school’s total enrollment of 126 students.

E. Students in full time PSEO will not count toward student enrollment.

F. Previously enrolled students returning from foreign exchange programs are ensured a placement in the school, even if this exceeds enrollment limits.

G. Previously enrolled students returning from remedial summer school or similar school enrollment during the summer months in which Arcadia Charter School is not in session, are ensured a placement for the beginning of the fall semester of the consecutive academic year.

H. If any student, whether enrolled or on the waiting list, cancels their application or withdraws from Arcadia, they shall lose their place. If they later re-apply, they shall be treated as a new student.

I. All Applicants still on a waiting list at the beginning of the next enrollment period must submit a new application for enrollment and will be subject to the enrollment process described above. The waiting lists do not carry over from year to year.

SUPPLEMENTAL CONTINUING OVERSIGHT CRITERIA, PROCESSES, PROCEDURES
Exhibit M

Continuing Oversight – Accountability

The District evaluates its charter schools in three primary areas:

1. Academic Performance
2. Fiscal Performance
3. Operations and Legal Compliance

Academic Performance: Is the School improving all student achievement?

Academic Performance is evaluated based on six criteria: Absolute Proficiency, Comparative Proficiency, Growth, Achievement Gap, World’s Best Workforce Plan and Governance.

Absolute Proficiency: Expecting proficiency for each student, the District evaluates the percentage of students meeting or exceeding state standards on the state assessment tests.

Comparative Proficiency: Expecting each charter school to fulfill its statutory obligation to improve student performance, the District evaluates how well the charter school performs compared to state average performance; a charter school of similar size and mission and to a district elementary that charter school students would otherwise likely attend.

Growth: Expecting growth for each student, the District evaluates the growth each student achieved on the state and other assessments.

Achievement Gap: Expecting all students to achieve academic success, the District evaluates the degree to which students receiving Special Education services achieve the same proficiency rates as students not qualifying for Special Education services on the state assessments.

World’s Best Workforce Plan: The District evaluates how well the School performs on annual goals set in the World’s Best Workforce Plan.

Academic Governance: The District evaluates the school board’s demonstration that it critically evaluates and strategically leads academic performance.

Fiscal Management: Is the School fiscally sound?
Fiscal Performance is evaluated based on multiple criteria: External Audit, Fund Balance, State Finance Award, and Governance.

External Audit: The District evaluates external audits and expects its schools to work towards elimination of deficiencies.

Fund Balance: The District evaluates a school's fiscal health based on its ability to pay unforeseen expenses.

State Finance Award: The District considers whether a charter school has received the Minnesota Department of Education Finance Award, which recognizes sound fiscal health and management policies and procedures.

Governance: The District evaluates the school board's demonstration that it preapproves and maintains a balanced budget; reviews monthly and annual budget reports and requires explanation for out-of-budget spending; receives required board training; and has adequate time to review board materials.

3. Operations and Legal Compliance: Is the School well-managed and legally compliant?

Operations and Legal Compliance is evaluated based on four criteria: Compliance with Applicable Law, Minnesota Department of Education Audit results, Charter Contract Reporting Obligations, and Leadership.

Charter schools must comply with applicable laws, such as admissions, teacher licensing, and special education requirements. The District evaluates the degree to which the school complies with these requirements.

Effective operations and governance are fundamental to a quality charter school. Consequently, the District evaluates effective operations through annual site visits, reviews board minutes, discussions with staff and stakeholders, MDE audit results, and adherence to charter requirements.

The District regularly monitors and evaluates other measures of school performance such as, near-term and long-term fiscal health indicators. These measures inform the District oversight but general are not used in determining charter renewal unless the measures impact charter school obligations contained in the charter contract.
EXHIBIT N:

PERFORMANCE EVALUATION OF SCHOOL
Exhibit N

On December 12, 2016, Arcadia received a letter from the Minnesota Department of Education (MDE) notifying the school that it had been designated a “High-Quality Charter School” (HQCS) for the third year in a row. This recognition is reserved for only the top 32 of the 180 existing charter schools in Minnesota. Specific criteria for selection included having a record of increasing student achievement, and demonstrating a history of organizational and financial stability and viability. Arcadia is proud to be a recipient of this award as well as a recipient of the 2016 Finance Award for excellence in financial management.

The following narrative and accompanying attachments expand on why Arcadia is truly a High-Quality Charter School, by exploring each of the four essential questions for reauthorization. Those four questions are:

1. Is the educational program a success?
2. Is the organization effective and well-run?
3. Is the school meeting its legal obligations?
4. Are strategies in place for sustaining success and continuing to improve over the next charter term?

1. Is the educational program a success?

This section presents evidence that Arcadia Charter School’s unique educational program is a success, as evidenced by student academic growth over time, student achievement level status, postsecondary access and readiness data, and student engagement data. Educational objectives related to Arcadia’s unique project based learning model are also presented in this section.

Student Academic Growth Over Time (MCA results)
According to state data (see screenshots from the MDE data analytics website below), Arcadia students are on track for success over time. The graphs below show demonstrated growth in both reading and math. The data are compared with the Minnesota New Country School (MNCS), a school of similar size and demographic make-up. The first screen shot shows students on track for success in math. The concerted effort put in by our math team this past year is reflected in the rise in test scores, with the very dramatic rise from 56.3% in 2015 to 73.7% in 2016.

The second MDE screenshot compares the two charter schools on growth in reading, which has also increased consistently over the past four years.

2012 – 2016 Reading MCA student growth scores: Arcadia and MNCS comparison
Student Achievement Level (MCA Proficiency Results)

MCA Reading Proficiency
Though Arcadia previously set a target of 85.9% proficiency, which it did not reach, Arcadia’s reading proficiency scores have remained reasonably high over time, consistently outperforming the statewide average. Most recently, 72.1% of students were proficient according to MCA data. Arcadia’s scores have also remained on par with Northfield Public Schools (NPS), even edging higher in 2016 (72.1% compared to 65.43%). Arcadia’s percentage of students achieving proficiency based on the MCA data is much higher than MNCS, a rural charter school with comparable demographics and enrollment.

Reading proficiency comparison: state, NPS, Arcadia, and MNCS

(Note: Due to changes in the standards, 2012 scores are not comparable to 2013-present)
-MCA Math Proficiency
Arcadia continues to show an increase in MCA math test scores. While scores remain below the aggressive 71% target for 2017, the scores demonstrate significant progress, rising from 32.5% in 2011 to 53.8% in 2016. Proficiency data show that Arcadia students' math proficiency is lower than the State (59.5% in 2016) and Northfield School District (62.65% in grades 6-12 in 2016). However, compared to a comparable rural charter district, Minnesota New Country School, Arcadia is performing significantly better (25.9% compared to 53.8% proficiency in 2016). Math continues to be an area of focus for the school, and that focus appears to be working, as scores have steadily improved over the past five years. The math core team met over the summer of 2016 and strategized to add a class designed for students needing more support between Algebra I and Algebra II. This class, offered through Title I funding, is in part responsible for the steady rise in math scores.

Math proficiency comparison: state, NPS, Arcadia, and MNCS
MCA Science Proficiency

After a promising growth in science scores from 2013 – 2015, Arcadia students dropped in proficiency in 2016. The drop was significant and may be due to the very small cell size. In 2015, 36 students were tested, 20 were proficient, or 55.6%. In 2016, 40 students took the test, but only 19 were proficient, only one student less than last year. But the percent proficient dropped to 47.5%. However, taking cell size into account, the scores in science represent a drop, and Arcadia is analyzing the strengths and weaknesses of its science curriculum this year. Science teachers will be meeting to determine goals based on strengthening the current curriculum, creating projects/electives options addressing science standards, and providing intentional strategies for engaging students in science.

Science proficiency comparison: state, NPS, Arcadia, and MNCS

All test results are used by teachers when scheduling classes, when considering the level of difficulty of projects which will challenge but not frustrate students, and when assessing the final presentation product. With our large special education population, NWEA RIT (individual growth) scores are used as part of the evaluation and determination of services. These growth scores are also used by math teachers to determine if students need additional Title I assistance to keep up with the math sequence. All test scores are now available on our student data system, JMC.
Post-Secondary Access and Readiness

Post-secondary Readiness
Post-Secondary Enrollment Options (PSEO) are important to the Arcadia philosophy. Students are encouraged to take the Accupacer Test, offered twice yearly, to determine readiness for college coursework. Arcadia also offers ACT testing and ACT prep classes for those students planning to attend college.

Each year from 8-10 students take advantage of PSEO classes during their junior and/or senior years. In 2016-17, Arcadia has had 12 students participating in PSEO classes at Gustavus Adolphus, Carleton College, South Central College, St. Catherine’s University, Inver Hills, Normandale, and Dakota College Technical College. Five of these students are full time PSEO students.

Over the past five years, students have been accepted to the following colleges:

Each year for the past three years, at least one student has participated in a gap year in another country through the Rotary program.
Graduation Rate:
Arcadia has always had a high graduation rate, but according to data presented on the MDE website, in 2016 100% of students eligible to graduate in 2016 did in fact graduate. Arcadia graduation cohorts are relatively small (see cell sizes below the graph) meaning that only one student not graduating could skew results.

Arcadia does not have a school counselor on staff, but does offer college counseling, including this year's college night called "Insider tips to navigate the complicated college process and save lots of money", presented by the nonprofit group College Inside Track. This organization was developed by a retired financial advisor who realized that although college is probably the second largest purchase most families make in their lives, few understand the pitfalls, myths about financial aid, and significant ways to reduce cost.

Because Arcadia has a large special education cohort, special education teachers and staff are required to develop and follow a transitions plan for each high school student, beginning in ninth grade. Special education transition classes at Arcadia include classes in executive functioning, financial management, cooking, and independent living. Special education families and their Arcadia case managers review many options to find the best placement for the student following graduation. This includes working with college counselors to be sure the IEP follows the student from high school to college.

Student Engagement:
Arcadia is a strong Q-Comp school and has kept student engagement as an overall focus for the past three years. In 2016-17, the Q-Comp team and staff made student engagement the focus of staff development. A student engagement rubric was developed that is adaptable to each teacher’s instructional style. All staff were observed using this rubric in the fall of 2016. Of those staff participating 93% received a score of proficient or higher. Only one teacher received a less than proficient score. In 2014-15, Teachers read the book Causes and Cures in the Classroom by Margaret Searle together, then generated individual professional growth plans based on the methods discussed in the book. Teachers also studied student engagement using several books including Developmental Designs, by Linda Crawford, and Mindsets by Carol Black.

Students were administered the Developmental Assets Profile (DAP) each year. Results of the most recent DAP profile show that students are most engaged while at school, a finding different from most DAP survey results, which show students to be most engaged at home. The DAP also examined student engagement with drugs and alcohol. Those results indicate a very low use of drugs and alcohol among Arcadia students.

Rates of attendance are another measure of student engagement. The table below indicates the high level of attendance for Arcadia students. Note that the rate of attendance has increased steadily from 2013 to present.

Other Innovative Academic Program Components:

The Arcadia Project-Based Model:

According to the Buck Institute for Education (BIE), project based learning can be defined as "a teaching method in which students gain knowledge and skills by working for an extended period of time to investigate and respond to an authentic, engaging and complex question, problem, or challenge. In Gold Standard PBL, Essential Project Design Elements include:

- Key Knowledge, Understanding, and Success Skills - The project is focused on student learning goals, including standards-based content and skills such as critical thinking/problem solving, collaboration, and self-management.
- Challenging Problem or Question - The project is framed by a meaningful problem to solve or a question to answer, at the appropriate level of challenge.
- Sustained Inquiry - Students engage in a rigorous, extended process of asking questions, finding resources, and applying information.
- Authenticity - The project features real-world context, tasks and tools, quality standards, or impact – or speaks to students' personal concerns, interests, and issues in their lives.
- Student Voice & Choice - Students make some decisions about the project, including how they work and what they create.
- Reflection - Students and teachers reflect on learning, the effectiveness of their inquiry and project activities, the quality of student work, obstacles and how to overcome them.
- Critique & Revision - Students give, receive, and use feedback to improve their process and products.
- Public Product - Students make their project work public by explaining, displaying and/or presenting it to people beyond the classroom."

These principles guide the Arcadia project-based process. It should be noted that Arcadia also offers core classes using a more traditional classroom methodology, to assure all students have met basic standards. In the spring of 2014, staff worked with the board and the school director to create a document describing the PBL process specific to Arcadia. This paper continues to provide direction and impetus for curricular innovation.
2. Is the organization effective and well-run?

To determine whether each charter school is organizationally effective and well-run, this section highlights the school's cumulative body of evidence for financial performance, school demand, governance and stewardship, leadership, and parent and community engagement.

Financial Performance

Arcadia Charter School's general fund balance has increased each year. At the end of the 2015-16 fiscal year, the fund balance was $237,771. Arcadia's school board and Finance Committee continue to follow the board approved fund balance policy, while maintaining full enrollment to maintain strong financial support for upcoming years. Expenditures that improved our facilities, updated our technology and increased our benefit package have been priorities for the past five years.

Arcadia employs its own independent business manager, who handles all book keeping and coordinates the audit. Arcadia is proud to have had a clean audit with no material findings for the past five years. A variety of procedures including checks and balances are in place to assure effective accounting procedures.

Board approved annual budgets from 2014–2017 resulted in a steadily increasing fund balance and five years of MDE finance awards for excellent accounting practices and clear audits with no material findings.

School Demand

Arcadia has had a stable enrollment since its inception in 2003. The first three years were formative years, with enrollment increasing steadily from 98 students in 2003-2004 to 107 students by 2005-2006. From 2006 – present, the school has stayed within the range of 122–128 students (with the exception of 2010-2011, when enrollment dipped to 117). Although Arcadia draws primarily from the Northfield District (84%); 36% come from surrounding...
districts.

Arcadia accepts 18 students/grade in grades 6, 7, and 8 for a total of 54 students. These 54 students are divided into two multi-grade advisories, with 27 students in each advisory. Arcadia High School also accepts 18 students/grade in grades 9, 10, 11, and 12 for a total of 72 students. These 72 students are divided into two multi-grade advisories, with 36 students in each advisory. Each of the four total advisories is overseen by two licensed teachers, who are responsible for oversight of projects and monitoring course registration and completion. The advisors arrange conferences with parents and work with special education staff to implement accommodations on student Individualized Educational Programs (IEPs). Arcadia has a cap on enrollment of 126 students, not to exceed 18 students/grade. Exceptions are made for grades carrying full time PSEO students, who are not physically in the building. In these cases additional students may be added to the high school advisory. For example, if a high school advisory has 36 students enrolled, but two do not attend any classes at Arcadia due to PSEO, Arcadia may accept two extra students to fill the available 36 seats in the class. Overall enrollment would then appear to be 128 students.

Governance and Management

Arcadia’s board elections are held in April of each school year. The election is completed prior to each school year’s end, and new members are seated the following August. Each non-teacher board member is appointed to a three-year term. Teachers serve two year terms.

The Board is responsible for the overall policy and direction of the school and is accountable for its outcomes. The Board shall hire, by a two-thirds majority vote, and delegate responsibility for day-to-day operations, to the school’s Executive Director.

The membership of the school board consists of nine elected directors, and will consist of three licensed teachers employed at the school, three parents or guardians of student(s) currently enrolled at Arcadia, and one interested community member who is not employed by Arcadia and does not have a child enrolled at the school and two at-large positions to be filled by either parents or community members. The Board shall not include more than one member of a family; this includes spouse, partner or children.

The board meets monthly at Arcadia School. A calendar of meeting times and board contact information is posted on the website and at the front desk. Board minutes are posted on the website and are also available in a binder at the school’s front desk.

Board Member Training

In January, 2014, the Arcadia Charter School board hired trainer Bryan Rossi to train the board on the three areas of Board Governance, School Finance, and Employment Law. The Arcadia School Board participated in ongoing training during their 2015 January day long Board Retreat. The 2016 January retreat was also dedicated to additional board training and related strategic planning. Board training occurs on an annual basis.
Leadership
Arcadia uses an Executive Director model of collaborative administration. As a small school there is no assistant director or dean of students. Lisa Malecha, MSW, works as a School Social Worker whose duties include Special Education Coordination. Rebecca McMullen, Business Manager, and Kim Hansen, Office manager, complete the administrative team.

Barbara E. Wornson, Ed.D., currently serves as Arcadia’s Interim Executive Director. She has been in education for 44 years, including eleven years as a school psychologist and 16 years as a school administrator, primarily in charter schools.

A search for a permanent Executive Director is under way. The job description, drafted by the Transition Advisory Committee, will be presented to the board at their March 9, 2017 meeting and subsequently a search committee will be formed.

Parent and Community Engagement

Although there have been valiant efforts to energize a parent group this year, the results have not been stellar. Parents do volunteer to help with a wide range of activities including substitute teaching or subbing for paraprofessionals (if endorsed); bringing food to staff during conferences, volunteering time for mentoring or teaching units (such as dance, sign language, coding, and Latin); supervising at evening events, participating in the open houses held twice each year, and even helping out at the front desk or building cabinets. We are very, very grateful for their presence on the board and many committees as well as their support.

However, an organized parent group has not come together, in spite of our best efforts this fall. A parent-teacher group meeting regularly can greatly enhance community building as well as communication. The marketing and fundraising committee is planning a college night for families this spring. The Director’s Update goes out to all families biweekly, and asks for volunteers, but rarely gets a response. The administrative team is planning to put out a survey to all parents to determine what activities appeal to them (educational vs. social, for example) and how we can motivate parents and families to take a larger part in our community.

3. Is the school meeting its legal obligations?

This section presents data related to Arcadia’s financial reporting and accountability, services for students with special education needs, services for English Language Learners, and other legal compliance issues.
Financial Reporting and Accountability

Arcadia Charter School's general fund balance has increased each year. At the end of the 2015-16 fiscal year, the fund balance was $237,771. Arcadia’s school board and Finance Committee continue to follow the board approved fund balance policy, while maintaining full enrollment to maintain strong financial support for upcoming years. Expenditures that improved our facilities, updated our technology and increased our-benefit package have been priorities for the past five years.

Arcadia employs its own independent business manager, who handles all book keeping and coordinates the audit. Copies of the audit have been sent to the authorizer and the state and are available from Arcadia School upon request. Arcadia is proud to have had a clean audit with no material findings for the past five years. A variety of procedures including checks and balances are in place to assure effective accounting procedures. The Business Manager and the Executive Director meet weekly to review deposits, expenditures, and budget activity. Arcadia also employs a part time due process coordinator who manages the special education funding. Because Arcadia’s special education population has risen so drastically, this has been an important step to assure accurate EDRS reporting. The Director also meets regularly with the Special Education Director to go over federal and state budget lines.

Services for students with special education needs

The table below shows the increase in special education students in recent years. A rough estimate of the percentage of special needs students in traditional middle and high schools ranges from 16%-18% (MDE data analytics). It is not unusual for parents of special needs students to reach out to smaller schools, but there has been a clear increase in special needs students during the past three years. The average percentage of 22.18% of all students receiving some special education services from 2003 to an average of 38.6% over the past three years and a current rate of 45% is significant.

In the 2014-15 school year, Arcadia was monitored by the Minnesota Department of Education (MDE) and, partly due to those findings, the school contracted with Sanborn Associates for Special Education Directorship services. Several new processes and procedures have been put in place as a result. With a burgeoning special needs population, we have increased our special education staff to include nine full time paraprofessionals and four special education teachers in addition to a special education coordinator/social worker and a part time due process coordinator. This year we added a health office, staffed with a .25 fte school nurse, whose position will be .50 fte next school year. Other needs such as school psychology, occupational therapy, speech therapy, and deaf/hard of hearing are contracted services.

Demographic comparison, Arcadia and Northfield High School

The data on the MDE website does not break out Arcadia middle school from its high school when reporting demographics. The data presented therefore compares Northfield High School (grades 9-12) to Arcadià charter school (grades 6-12) for purposes of comparison only. The demographic data for Northfield High School appear to be very similar to Arcadia Charter School, with the very notable exception of special education (see highlighted row). Data is for the 2015-2016 school year only. As noted in the table above, special education students this year comprise 45% of our student population. Arcadia has no ELL students enrolled.

Services for English Language Learners (ELL)
Arcadia has no ELL students enrolled. This may be due to the large and very successful program targeting Latino students within the Northfield School District. The school would love having a more diverse demographic, but has no interest in detacting from the excellent Northfield program.

Other Legal Compliance
Arcadia works with two law groups: Booth Law Group for questions related to student welfare and running the school, and Lindquist and Vellum for contractual law, specifically related to the possible formation of an affiliated building company and related lease/purchase options.

Arcadia complies with all MDE required reporting.
4. Are strategies in place for sustaining success and continuing to improve over the next charter term?

This section describes Arcadia’s plans and strategies for sustaining and continuing to build academic, organizational and operational success over the next charter term. This section explains how the school will build and achieve long-term sustainability and success.

The governing board has a strategic plan in place that addresses questions of sustaining success and continuing to improve over the next charter term. The board has a policies and procedures committee that meets monthly to review existing policies on a three-year rotating basis. New policies or policies in need of revision before their place on the three-year cycle will be considered by the committee at its regular meeting. In addition to the policies committee, the governing board has a finance committee, marketing and fund-raising committee, technology committee, compensation committee, education committee, wellness committee, and a transitions advisory committee. The finance, marketing/fundraising, technology, wellness, and education committees meet monthly. The compensation committee is an ad hoc committee that meets each spring on a biweekly basis to address teacher compensation and benefits programs. The transitions advisory committee meets biweekly, but will disband in March when the newly formed search committee is formed to hire a permanent Executive Director. The Executive Director meets weekly with the Board Chair.

The Arcadia special education team meets weekly as a Child Study Team (CST) to review individual cases and schedule evaluations or IEP meetings. The special education staff also meet as a Teacher Assistance Team (TAT) to review students referred by staff or parents for behavior or learning problems which may result in a special education referral. The TAT may refer the student for evaluation or request child specific interventions be initiated first. The TAT is responsible for communicating with the person making the referral.

The Leadership Team at the School consists of the Executive Director, School Social Worker/Special Education Coordinator, Business Manager, and Office Administrator. Meetings are held weekly with the Executive Director developing the written agenda. These meetings have to do with the day to day functioning of the school as well as concerns for specific situations such as a child’s health. In cases involving health issues, the school nurse is included in the leadership team.

The teaching staff: Faculty and staff meet each Wednesday morning as professional learning communities (PLCs). Arcadia has only two PLCs: middle school and high school. These groups address issues as they may arise in the course of the week as well as tackling issues of curriculum, learning program, and project based learning progress. Arcadia is a Q-Comp school through MDE. Continuing professional development is part of the Q-Comp process. Teachers may attend a conference of their choice, and all teaching faculty are part of the Q-Comp peer observation and assessment process which results in merit-based compensation packages.
Teaching staff also meet in bi-weekly staff meetings that alternate with bi-weekly Q-Comp professional development meetings. A call for agenda items is put out to all faculty and staff prior to the staff meeting. All faculty and staff participate in the staff meeting agenda.

Culture and Climate

Arcadia has a unique culture and climate, which relies heavily on collaboration and participatory leadership, both with staff and with students. The board has been sending out surveys to staff to address climate and culture issues. The results have been positive. Although a compilation of the data is not readily available Arcadia also sends out annual parent surveys to gauge satisfaction and community needs. Because communication is also an important part of building culture and climate, daily announcements are read in each advisory and posted on the website. In addition, the Director’s Newsletter goes out bi-weekly via email and is posted on the website.

Ongoing Needs to be addressed over the next five years:

1. Facilities (Facilities Committee):
   a. Continue to determine whether purchasing the building is feasible.
   b. Develop an action plan and timeline.
   c. Conduct a building inspection to determine maintenance and repair needs.

2. Board Governance (Board of Directors):
   a. Hire a permanent executive director
   b. Develop a Director Evaluation process and rubric based on the detailed job description
   c. Maintain a small school with an enrollment cap of 126.

3. Education (Faculty, Q-Comp, Education Committee):
   a. Revisit the curriculum development process including goals for each core area
   b. Continue to refine the project based learning model
   c. Sustain the current arts programming
   d. Build on current technology programming
      i. Coding
      ii. Robotics
      iii. Film-making
      iv. Spreadsheets and accounting

4. Staffing (Executive Director):
a. Consider increasing nursing time from .25 to .50 fte for students with documented medical needs.
b. Consider appropriate curricula and staffing for the following programs
   i. Physics and Chemistry
   ii. World languages
   iii. Physical education
   iv. Health

5. Professional Development
   a. Visit other project based schools
   b. Collaborate with more ethnically diverse schools to meet our mission goal of becoming citizens within a global context
   c. Continue integrating technology into every classroom
   d. Require committee participation for all staff members

6. Parent Participation (Board, Executive Director)
   a. Create a survey to determine
      i. Interest in a formally organized parent teacher organization
      ii. Interest in family educational programs
         1. College selection and finances
         2. Managing student screen time
         3. What to expect from your child developmentally
   iii. Interest in being part of an advisory committee to the Director

Self-study Based on Recommendations from the 2012 Reauthorization Team

The following recommendations were made to Arcadia following the 2012 Reauthorization Process. The recommendations were reported by then director Ryan Krominga. The recommendations have formed the basis of ongoing study for the Arcadia board, faculty, families, and community stakeholders. Each recommendation is followed by an assessment of where we are in the process of providing closure on these recommendations.

Curriculum and Instruction:
1. Establish a scope and sequence of goals/objectives for the curriculum
   Over the past five years, the curriculum has undergone a continuous process of development. A curriculum map indicating a timeline for allowing specific disciplines to develop curriculum and align projects has been developed. It is, by the very nature of progressive education, in a constant state of revision. The school has developed a curriculum guide which this year was split into two middle school and high school guides.
2. Create a rubric for projects following Charlotte Danielson’s model. The middle school and high school have developed project rubrics that align with the specific skills Arcadia expects students to develop. The Charlotte Danielson model, used primarily for teacher evaluation, was not considered appropriate for student projects. Rubrics for middle school and high school project evaluations are rigorous and flexible to meet the demands of each project.

3. Incorporate a basic technology class for students and further in-service training for staff. Staff development in the area of technology has increased every year. The school has contracted with Tierney Brother Technology for the provision of training in google classroom and other google products. Starting with the 2014-15 school year, Lego Robotics was introduced as a class to middle school students. It remains as both an elective class and an after school activity. A keyboarding class is taught for students who need to sharpen those skills. Coding is taught through Coder DoJo and in a coding class, where Scratch (beginning level coding), Python (more advanced) and other coding is taught. Use of on-line curricula by teachers has increased, and we continue in-school staff development to learn how to use equipment and on-line resources. This year our technology includes increased access points and internet coverage as well as apple TV and document cameras. One language arts class is being taught simultaneously with Shattuck-St Mary’s School via online resources.

4. Develop a PE curriculum
Arcadia has developed a relationship with the local YWCA for physical education needs. The school has hired a part time physical education teacher, who also teaches some health classes. The school very much wants to formalize a PE curriculum and health curriculum. This is being developed with the YMCA, United Way, Dundas Dome, and SHIP projects. The emphasis is on wellness for the whole child, including mental health. The goal is to have the physical education/health/wellness policies and procedures in place before the end of the third quarter, and a curriculum in implementation by the Fall of 2017.

5. Create opportunities for staff to observe other teachers in other schools. This recommendation continues to be encouraged but has not been systematically implemented. There has been some shifting of staff responsibilities during the 2015-16 and 2016-17 school year. With the 2017-18 school year fast approaching, this goal needs to be more intentionally addressed. The Arcadia Q-Comp program is excellent, and may be the best place for school visits to reside.

6. Create creative spaces for students to study quietly
This has been an ongoing challenge, but staff have been diligent in pursuing it. At least one quiet study corner exists with table and comfortable chair. A library has been put together, and is frequently used by students, although it tends to attract items needing to be stored. A small room has been designated for sensory stimulation/calming with dimmed lights and soft rugs. Special Education staff now share offices, leaving more small rooms available for quiet study and group projects.
School Climate

1. Promote teachers' professional development by nurturing the formation and maintenance of connections with teachers at other schools working in the same fields. This recommendation continues to be encouraged but without planning and intentionality, it tends to be forgotten in the daily routine. One exception has been the co-teaching of two classes with Shattuck-St. Mary's. This was made possible by an Arcadian board member who also is a teacher at Shattuck-St. Mary's. Our goal is to facilitate more visits, particularly to schools with similar project-based, progressive ideals and practices.

2. Require all teachers to address concerns about quality and rigor by articulating more clearly their learning goals and standards for evaluation. The Education Committee and the Q-Comp committee have taken on this task with all due diligence. Teachers are asked to show how their classes meet standards and provide a syllabus to students (and parents, if asked). The completion of the Curriculum Guide is helpful for communication with parents and stakeholders. Teachers write goals and share peer observation, but the Q-comp process so far does not address classroom instruction from the standpoint of quality and rigor. This is especially important in a project-based curriculum. Constructing rubrics addressing rigor and quality will be a goal for the 2017-18 school year.

3. Explore using Q-Comp or other 'non-random' approaches to increase communication between teachers about their learning goals and academic standards for evaluation. See response to number 2 above.

4. Make a more conscious effort to understand and correct community members' misrepresentations about ARTech. Changing the name of the school (to Arcadia) presents an opportunity to reintroduce the program. The community understanding of Arcadia and the program continues to improve every year. There are still misconceptions in our own community, not to mention the greater community. We have more people interested in coming to visit our program to see what we are about. Community outreach is an important part of correcting misconceptions. This year we updated our website and will be reaching out to independent elementary schools (PCCS, St. Dominic's, Nerstrand) to share our program.

5. Explore additional possibilities for collaborating with the Northfield Public Schools, including the possibility of allowing ARTech to educate families about its program through the school system itself. We continue to collaborate with the Northfield Public Schools (NPS) whenever possible. Currently students can attend classes with NPS when the class they want is not available at Arcadia. Students also enjoy participating in NPS extracurricular activities, including plays and sports. NPS also has a prominently displayed page on their website addressing its role as an authorizer of two charter schools.
6. Continue exploring new and better ways to use the spaces at ARTech to support student learning and staff planning and communication as a way of more clearly articulating and achieving the learning goals of the program. This has been a challenge, but strides have been taken to improve the space, including applying new epoxy flooring in the Great Room and adding the “Room of Requirement” which also serves as a lobby for performances. The school has a facilities committee which is examining the possibility of major renovations, and the feasibility of forming an affiliated building company to purchase the building.

Special Education

1. Team meetings should have an agenda, cooperatively written by the members of the team.
   In the 2014-15 school year, Arcadia was monitored by the Minnesota Department of Education (MDE) and, partly due to those findings, contracted with Sanborn Associates for Special Education Directorship services. Several new processes and procedures have been put in place as a result. With a burgeoning special needs population, we have increased our special education staff to include nine full time paraprofessionals and four special education teachers in addition to a special education coordinator/social worker and a part time due process coordinator. This year we added a health office, staffed with a .25 fte school nurse, whose position will be .50 fte next school year.

2. More training on how to most effectively work with students when more than one adult is present in the classroom.
   By increasing the number of paraprofessionals available in the classrooms and scheduling them to the areas, whether classroom or advisory, of greatest need we have provided a great deal of support to teachers. We are currently working to put accommodations on the student data system, so teachers and staff have immediate access to the information they need to instruct the student.

Finances

1. A recurring theme was the feeling of a shortage of funds for technology. The school should look for ways to increase technology funding and/or grants.
   The Arcadia school board put $20,000 of the existing fund balance towards technology in the 2013-14 school year. Additional funding to upgrade the internet and access points to support many devices was completed this year (2016-17). The technology committee is now working on a plan for streamlining inventories and signing out computers as well as a cycle for replacement. The committee will also be determining the 'ideal' number of devices the school requires to function at a minimally acceptable level.

2. The school could explore alternative ways to enhance their employee benefit offerings through participation in education coops, pools, etc.
   In the 2014-15 school year, Arcadia increased its employee health insurance plan to pay for the full coverage of each employee with an additional $75 to put towards family plans. Arcadia also offers short term and long term disability and life insurance for all families. With the current changes in health coverage, the board and administration will work with a compensation committee to investigate options for insurance that may better serve our employees.

3. The board should develop a long-range budget that includes assumptions of increased PSEO participation by students.
The business office has used 2.0 adm (average daily membership) as an estimate of how many students are participating in PSEO. The current procedure is to add one student for each student who is participating in full-time PSEO classes. We seldom have more than five students participating in PSEO full time.

4. The school should continue discussion on fair and sustainable compensation models.
In the 2014-15 school year, the school board instituted a salary grid developed by the administration that assures staff members who have stayed with the school over time will see compensation beyond the cost of living raises put out each school year. This year the compensation committee will be studying the grid in conjunction with other teacher compensation policies to assure equity in compensation.

Governance

1. Develop a Strategic Plan for the school that will set the vision for the school for the next five years.
Following reauthorization in the 2012-13 school year, the school board developed a strategic plan. The board is involved in developing a strategic plan to address how the school is meeting and implementing its mission and vision statements. This work began in December and will continue through the current school year.

2. Design a comprehensive evaluation process of evaluating the director.
This recommendation has been necessarily tabled due to director turn-over. The director who left in July of 2015 was followed by a director who stayed only one year, and now by an interim director until a permanent director can be hired. The board and interim director have been working to put together a set of expectations, which can then be turned into rubrics for evaluation. The board hopes this will be put in place by the end of the current school year.

3. The board chair and director should work together to develop a plan for the director’s professional development, based on the director’s goals and areas designated as needing attention.
This is critically important, and is part of the current board plan for the incoming director.

4. Instigate a development committee for the board to investigate new and alternative ways to raise funds for the school.
The marketing and fundraising committee is meeting regularly, but is concerned primarily with current fundraising activities and small scale marketing activities. One hindrance is the lack of a line item in the budget for marketing. There is not currently money available to fund a development office, but the marketing/fundraising committee welcomes grant writers and anyone with innovative ideas for raising money.

2017 Site Visit by Authorizing Team
The description and explanation of the site visit by the authorizing team has been compiled by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Matt Hillmann. The team recommends reauthorization for five years. The text of that report is presented in Exhibit O. Arcadia students and staff comment frequently on how fortunate the school is to be authorized by the Northfield Public Schools. Rather than competing with the Northfield schools, we work with them to provide all students with unique choices and alternatives. We look forward to a long and productive relationship with the Northfield Public Schools and appreciate all they have done and continue to do for Arcadia's students and families.

PERFORMANCE EVALUATION OF SCHOOL,
EXTERNAL EVALUATION
Arcadia Charter School Authorizer Annual Site Visit/External Review
January 31, 2017

Authorizer Vision: Northfield Public Schools families should have access to high quality public charter schools within the District boundaries.

Authorizer Mission: Our mission (as an authorizer) is to authorize charter schools within the Northfield School District boundaries.

Introduction

On January 31, 2017, a team representing Northfield Public Schools in its Charter School Authorizer role visited Arcadia (formerly Artech) Charter School for a full-day site visit and external review. The review team was as follows:

- Dr. Matt Hillmann, Superintendent, Northfield Public Schools. Dr. Hillmann served as the team leader.
- Mr. Simon Tyler, Director, Prairie Creek Charter School (Castle Rock, Minnesota). Mr. Tyler is also a former Director at Arcadia Charter School.
- Mr. Chris Bussmann, Principal, Dodge Middle School (Farmington, Minnesota). Mr. Bussmann is also the current President of the Minnesota Middle School Association and is a resident of Northfield. He has also been completing an internship for a Superintendent license with Dr. Hillmann.

The day’s review focused on gathering data to address these four key questions:

1. Is the educational program a success?
2. Is the organization effective and well-run?
3. Is the school meeting its legal obligations?
4. Are strategies in place for sustaining success and continuing to improve over the next charter term?

External Visitation Team members captured data related to these four questions during the site visit and communicated their observations to the team leader for summarization in this report.
Schedule

The external visitation included observation of classrooms, meetings with Arcadia Charter School Interim Director Barbara Wornson and other staff, meetings with students, a meeting with Board members, and a meeting with parents. The following schedule was used for the full day visit.

The following summaries are the External Visitation Team’s review of the four key questions.

Key Question No. 1: Is the educational program a success?

The External Visitation Team observes that the educational program at Arcadia Charter School is a success for several reasons. This assertion is based on objective data about academic progress and clear, observable alignment of daily activities and instruction with the school’s stated mission.

Arcadia Charter School has continued to outperform the state average in reading proficiency. Despite having a larger proportion of Special Education students when compared to the state average, Arcadia Charter School’s Special Education students have significantly outpaced the state average for Special Education student proficiency in reading for three of the past four years— including by 30 percentage points in 2015-16.

Arcadia Charter School has demonstrated consistent growth in mathematics proficiency on the MCA examination since 2014. While there is still room for growth, the trajectory indicates a positive trend.

While Arcadia Charter School’s students dropped below the State average on the MCA science examination in 2016 (below), Special Education students continue to outperform their peers across the state on the assessment.

In addition to this objective academic data, Arcadia Charter School’s mission was clearly evident during the External Visit. Arcadia Charter School students are expected to:

- express themselves artistically;
- use technology responsibly, creatively, and with innovation;
- develop critical thinking and creative problem solving skills;
- and construct knowledge and meaning for themselves.

In the Middle School advisories, a morning meeting strategy is used to create the foundation for that mission. Using the Development Designs social curriculum model, students engaged in a morning message, a greeting, and a game. This approach set the positive tone for the day and helps create a learning environment that supports Arcadia Charter School’s mission.

Project time allowed the External Visitation Team to observe students engaged in project-based learning. Students were engaged in a study and self-reflection around career interests and opportunities. Each member of the External Visitation Team was able to engage students in conversation about their projects at both the Middle and High School level. In each case, the students were able to clearly articulate their project. They were able to describe its purpose, alignment to standards, and what they had learned so far. It is clear that the project-based learning has a clear connection to the World’s Best Workforce requirements for Career and College readiness.

Team members were able to view a final presentation of an Arcadia Charter School High School project. The student presentation on the history of the Dakota War was impressive. Notably, insight into the efforts required to prepare High School students for this work took place in the Middle School advisories. It is clear that Middle School student projects structured around a required theme and mini-lessons focused on project components and presentation styles provided a foundation for the high-quality presentation we observed.

There were opportunities to observe engaged students exercising student voice and choice in their academic and artistic endeavors. Students are able to engage in a combination of courses and projects to meet state standards. This hybrid approach provides a significant amount of student choice and ownership in the academic program. In addition, critical partnerships with Northfield Public Schools allow students to engage in large ensemble music programming not offered at the school.
Finally, Arcadia Charter School was identified by the Minnesota Department of Education (MDE) as a high-quality charter school. This honor was bestowed upon only 26 charter schools in the state. The primary factor for this honor is academic achievement, providing key data suggestion that Arcadia’s educational program is a success.

Key Question No. 2: Is the organization effective and well-run?

The External Visitation Team has determined Arcadia Charter School is an organization that is both effective and well-run.

Leadership matters in all organizations. When there was a change in the Director position in July 2016; the Arcadia Charter School Board hired a transitional coordinator. This transitional coordinator shepherded the school community through the beginning of the academic year and helped conduct a search for an Interim Director. The school hired Dr. Barbara Wornson as the Interim Director in October. Dr. Wornson’s wealth of experience in leading charter schools has been an incredible alignment of skills with the school’s current needs. Dr. Wornson’s steady leadership has allowed the school to address some ongoing areas of growth, such as food service, and has supported the potential acquisition of the current site.

Arcadia Charter School is in good financial shape. The fund balance grew by $36,086 and now stands at $237,771, equating to approximately 14% of expenditures. An audit conducted by Clifton Larson Allen pronounced the school in a solid financial position and produced a clean, unqualified audit report for Fiscal Year 2016. There are preliminary discussions about acquiring the current building.

The school makes good use of partners throughout the community. This includes leveraging Northfield Public Schools as the official transportation provider, the local YMCA to provide physical education coursework, and using countless human capital from the two local liberal arts colleges (St. Olaf and Carleton) as resources for student coaching and mentoring on both academic and social/emotional fronts.

Arcadia Charter School has selected Project Foundry as the school’s management of student transcripts and the tracking system for monitoring progress toward graduation requirements. This is essential given the multiple paths in which students can gain credits towards graduation.

The school has several sub-committees - finance, facility, education program - that include staff, parents, community members and students. There is an autonomous and shared decision-making at the site level.

Key Question No. 3: Is the school meeting its legal obligations?

The External Visitation Team observes that based on available information, the school is working diligently to meet its legal obligations.

Arcadia Charter School’s audit report, as previously identified in this report, was clean and unqualified. Arcadia has routinely met state deadlines. One World’s Best Workforce Report was not submitted on time due to the change in Director and new expectations. Once this tardy reporting was discovered, the school quickly submitted the report.
There are several processes intended to provide shared oversight. Weekly and monthly meetings of the business manager, director and finance committee is a good practice that is in place. This ensures shared oversight and a check and balance.

The school has a mechanism for routine compliance checks. In addition, Special Education due process is carefully monitored. The school has hired a Special Education staff member to ensure compliance with due process and other deadlines. This is especially prudent given a significant percentage of students who have an Individual Education Plan (IEP). Our meeting with the Special Education teaching team revealed appreciation of the oversight provided by their Special Education director and by the onsite due process administrator.

The External Visitation Team found no data to suggest the school is not complying with its legal obligations.

Key Question No: 4: Are strategies in place for sustaining success and continuing to improve over the next charter term?

The External Visitation Team finds that Arcadia Charter School has numerous strategies in place to sustain success and continuous improvement over the next charter term.

Interim Director Dr. Wornson recently helped the Board and staff complete an "unpacking" of the school's mission and vision. This is informing the development of an updated and comprehensive strategic plan. This shared visioning model is essential in providing the clear destination for Arcadia's ongoing journey of continuous improvement.

The Arcadia Charter School Board has set itself for a positive future by hiring Dr. Wornson to ensure a smooth transitional time between permanent directors. The Board's transition team has ensured a thoughtful, three stage process and is prepared to conduct a search for a permanent director with input from multiple stakeholder groups.

The school is strongly considering acquiring the current building. This would solidify its facility--which supports its educational mission and vision very well—for the long-term. It is a wise move for consideration.

In addition, the Board is considering ways to seek parent feedback in an ongoing fashion that provides more frequent data points. More frequent insights rather than relying on the annual survey provide actionable data to make more nuanced adjustments to the school's direction than reactionary efforts.

Summary

Arcadia Charter School demonstrated affirmative attainment of all four key questions during the 2017 external visitation. Arcadia Charter School's educational program is a success when measured in a variety of ways, including being honored as one of only 26 charter schools identified by MDE as a "high quality charter school." It is an effective and well-run organization. Its Board of Directors has ably navigated challenging issues and made wise decisions in hiring an experienced interim director. The school, based on available information, is meeting its' legal obligations. Finally, it is a school that demonstrates a commitment to sustaining success and continuous improvement.
